AT WASHINGTON.

The Laurel and the Ladies—Society Gossip and Other Spicy Notes.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27, 1889.

The question of a national flower is being taken up and enthusiastically and universally discussed. Mrs. Frank Leslie learned sets forth the fitness of the laurel on account of its being emblematic of vigor and endurance. The delicate loveliness of its flowers is also worthy of universal admiration. To enhance the value of her suggestion comes the approval of George Bancroft, the venerable historian, whose opinions on matters of national interest are always received with consideration. He is, as usual with him at this season, resting quietly at his Newport villa. In his advanced age he retains all that clearness and power of intellect which distinguished the prime of his manhood. Recently in discussing this question of a national flower with a prominent young society woman, he replied, "I shall vote for the laurel without reservation."

It is said every influence will be brought to bear at the coming session of Congress to effect the repeal of the interstate commerce law, so heartily disapproved by all corporations. The plain and simple reasons for the repeal of the law have been well considered. It is rumored there will be a tremendous lobby on hand this Winter to give effect to the scheme for repeal.

Although New York is making strenuous efforts to secure the World's Fair in 1892, yet Washington is decidedly in the lead. There is a generally expressed sentiment that this city is the best fitted for the honor. The question is being agitated whether the expense of the Exposition would not be better borne by the United States Treasury than by private subscription. This seems meet and just as it is to be an exhibition of the resources of the United States. It remains for Congress to decide.

The "Tombola" given at Deer Park last week for the benefit of the Garnett County Orphanage, netted a profit of $600 for the institution. The result is very gratifying to Mrs. Stephen B. Evans, the originator of the charity, and Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee, her able and enthusiastic seconds. Amelie Rives-Chauvel, Virginia's fair young novelist, and a prime favorite in Washington's most exclusive set, is said, since taking up her residence in Paris, to have abandoned literature for art. She adores the realistic. It is whispered she uses her own divinely ravishing figure for a model, posing before a mirror. Amelie is nothing if not original.

Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., has abandoned the idea of making her debut in the society of emotional drama. She has taken up comedy despite the protestations of her friends. Mrs. Blaine may find she makes a mistake in adopting either, yet she shows wisdom in her preference, for there is a latitude and license in the one that cannot prevail in the other. She is summing at one of the leading hotels on Coney Island, where she is to be seen daily as an equestrienne and bathier. She is announcing herself, though modestly, for an early theatrical debut. At the same hotel is another forthcoming debutante, Mrs. Leslie Carter, Chicago's beautiful divorcee. There is much rivalry between the two as to prettiness, though Mrs. Blaine by no means considers they are on a plane socially. Mrs. Carter sought an introduction to Mrs. Blaine which was haughtily and positively declined.

Stopping at this same hotel are Bob Hilliard, the actor, and Porter Ashe, California's sportive son, who has so extensively advertised himself as Judge Terry's former law partner. They were both following in Mrs. Langtry's wake last Summer. The former is accused of the sentimental exploit of rapturously kissing the shoes which encase the Lily's ample English feet. Our own inimitable Porter was so conspicuously and assiduously devoted that Fred Gebhart called him to account. They had an open quarrel on the veranda of a Long Branch hotel, which resulted in Mr. Ashe leaving Freddy in undisputed possession of the Lily.

By the way there is a revolution in the matter of hand shaking, brought about by the ultra-fashionable. The arm is bent upward until the hand is about on a level with the face. In shaking the hands meet languidly, touching at the finger tips and quietly sliding away from each other.

DOROTHY DEXTER.

Something Should be Done.

The following sensible article is from the Enterprise:

The Reclamation Board has concluded to do nothing about storage dams until the report of the United States surveyors is made. This will be a long time in the future—probably after the next Legislature meets—and instead of having something to show that will encourage the Legislature to carry on the work, there will be simply a record of delay to exhibit. While it was proposed that the Carson river was the most available for the first work, all who understand the significance of a beginning were in favor of the money being expended there. But the money was not appropriated to be used exclusively on that river; it was appropriated to be used wherever it could be to advantage. Since the Commissioners have decided that anything practicable upon the Carson will cost more than the sum that has been appropriated, it seems strange that they do not look for some other place where the practical benefit of public assistance to irrigation can be shown. We had good reason to regard the complaisance of those who were simply jealous of a locality with contempt for their lack of appreciation of the efforts of those who have the future of the State at heart, but now that they call for a trial of other streams they have the strongest reason on their side, however inconsistent their present advocacy of the expenditure of the money may be. The appropriation of the money was made that the State might receive as immediate benefit as possible, also to show that Nevada is willing to help herself. If the Carson is not the most suitable stream it is because that some other is not tried. The State does not want "irrigation" simply as a word that can be used effectively during a political campaign. It wants irrigation as a fact, and the Board has the power to act should either do something to explain why it does not. We are told that a gentleman from Humboldt offered to point out a place where a dam could be easily built at a cost well within the means at the disposal of the Board. It is said that the information was given that any one could go where the dam should be built; that but little expense in the way of surveying need be incurred, and that as soon as a world was assured of 4,000 inches of water would be taken. This would pay the interest, and if more should be paid the State would make a profit from the beginning. In addition of having begun work, other places have been presented as suitable sites, but nothing is to be done until Congress receives a report.

The people of the State are much more desirous of seeing actual work in progress than of having a popular object of complaint. We want irrigation that irrigates, not talk that is for political effect. The glorification of nobody is of any importance to us compared to the fertilization of the land, and if the money cannot be well expended in one place it should be expended in another. The disappointment is general, and the suspicion is growing that personal aspirations have had much to do with the delay. If we are rightly informed as to the composition of the weatherboard county men, who agreed to show where the dam could be built and to buy enough water to pay the interest, and if our information that he is a thoroughly responsible man is correct, the Board will find it hard to convince the people in whose interests they are expected to act, that there has been either willingness to go ahead. We are heartily sick of the parade and presumption of the traveling committee. Everything that was learned will have been sent by mail. We do not know that it was at the suggestion of any of the committees that everything has come to a standstill, but a manifest desire to be directing affairs instead of getting something done, may have much to do with the disappointing cessation of activity.

Sierra Valley Crops.

Washoe county farmers are advised of the condition of crops in Sierra Valley, which the Journal gets from the last Leader:

Many of our ranchers at this end of the valley are inquiring where a market will be found for the big hay and grain crops this Fall. Others look wise and fully believe there will be a market before Spring. The rancher who is unable to hold his crop is the most and only one who is disconcerted as he cannot well take the chances of holding and he cannot sell at what he considers fair prices. We shall have no panic, however, and the heavy crops will mostly be held for a better market, and our people should be happy because they have the big crops. American, Indian and Long valleys all have short crops and no doubt our neighbors in those valleys are in a worse dilemma as to how they will get their stock through the Winter, if it should be a hard one, and there is no feed in the hills as is usual at this season of the year. There are too many scrub boroses in this valley and there is no market for them. It costs very little more to raise good horses than it does scrub. Our horse raisers, from the present outlook, will be compelled to turn their attention to cattle raising, as the horse market, even for fairly bred horses, is very poor at present and no prospect for any improvement. Railroads and cable street cars have ruined the horse markets but beef cattle can be fed to the human animal and until we learn to eat horseflesh, there is little prospect of a rise in the mustang horse market.

Governor?

It is generally understood in Republican circles that Governor Stevenson will not be a candidate for renomination. It is well understood, too, that T. B. Ruckey is at present a full fledged candidate, and has already commenced shaking with the boys.

Another County Heard From.

The Austin Reveille remarks:

Winters' horse El Rio Rey, won the Great Eclipse race for two years, by an easy four long-heads. This is a great victory for a Nevada horse, and speaks eloquently for our sagebrush and climate. From the dispatches it is said that the horse is a very promising two-year-old, and that he is one of the probable dark horses in next season's races. Winters will be given an opportunity to line his pockets with gold, and he is not likely to miss the chance to do so.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21st, 1889.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not do or say any difference in their nostrums put up at Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving actual and permanent relief? No nostrum in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BINGHAM'S BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, every drop of which that does not do its work will cost you nothing. ## 250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee -The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the DAILY and WEEKLY GAZETTE.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
